Medical Innovations Holding Company, Inc.

Medical Innovations Holding Company, Inc. (MIHC), is a developer of innovative medical technology, initially focused in the fields of cryotherapy and medical imaging. MIHC has contributed its intellectual property in these fields to a system of site-specific disease management of soft tissue cancers developed by its partner company, Critical Care Innovation, Inc. (CCI).

This integrated cancer treatment system provides a dramatic, new way to focus chemotherapy inside a target tumor or metastasis, providing optimized therapy and lower drug toxicity levels through the site-specific delivery of low-dose/high-concentration drugs and prolonged chemotherapeutic activity within cancerous tissues.

MIHC continues to work with CCI in the development of this cancer treatment system, and to search for cutting-edge medical technologies in need of commercialization.

Medical Innovations Holding Company, Inc., is located in Wayne, Pa. (James A. Stuber, Chief Executive Officer, 610-975-4460).
