

Fox School of Business and Management Student Code of Conduct

As an undergraduate student in the Fox School of Business and Management at Temple University I recognize that I will be held to a high standard of ethical and professional integrity. Standards encompassing responsibility, honesty and civility are detailed in the Student Code of Conduct below. By reading and signing, I assert my understanding of its contents and agree to support the ethical rules it contains.

Responsibility:

1. I will be expected to read, understand, and follow the syllabus assigned by the professor.
2. I will be expected to attend every class adequately prepared. This includes completing any assignments prior to coming to class, and bringing any required texts and materials to class.
3. I will be expected to hand in assignments on the day designated by the professor. I will be expected to take examinations on the day the exam is given during scheduled class time.

Honesty:

All assignments and examinations are assumed to be my original, independent work. Unless the professor indicates that team-work is part of an assignment, all work is to be completed without giving or receiving any outside assistance.¹

Civility:

1. I will be expected to maintain appropriate classroom etiquette. I will exhibit respectful behavior to the professor and to the other students in the class.
2. I will refrain from disruptive behavior while in class. Such behavior includes, but is not limited to:
 - a. Arriving to class late, **
 - b. Using electronic devices, (e.g. cellular phones, pagers, PDAs, unless such devices are part of a Fox School curriculum or program)
 - c. Leaving class during a lecture, except in extreme emergency
 - d. Speaking in a disruptive or profane manner in a class
3. I understand that I am fully responsible for my behavior when I participate in a Fox SBM-sponsored event, whether on or off Temple University property. A Fox School of Business sponsored event can be defined as any event, which was either promoted by, targeted to, or run by Fox students. Such behavior includes, but is not limited to:
 - a. Illegal use of drugs or alcohol **
 - b. Unacceptable behavior **
 - c. Student harassment **

My signature below constitutes an agreement that:

- I understand and accept all provisions outlined in the Student Code of Conduct (<http://policies.temple.edu/PDF/294.pdf>).
- I understand that any violations of this Code will be dealt with at the discretion of the professor or of the University Disciplinary Committee.
