We seek tenured/tenure-track faculty to contribute to the environment of collaborative, multi-disciplinary research at the Fox School of Business at Temple University. Qualified candidates must hold a Ph.D. or foreign equivalent by September 1, 2020, and have the potential for excellence in scholarship, teaching, and collegial service including the demonstrated ability to conduct high-quality research and publish in top-tier journals. Researchers in all areas of International Business are encouraged to apply for positions that start July 2020 or later. Although our focus is on Assistant Professors, well-trained research-active scholars at higher ranks will be considered if they have a strong publication record in top tier International Business, Management and Strategy journals and a strong pipeline of research projects. Candidates should be able to take a major role in the International Business PhD program, including cutting-edge IB doctoral seminars and supervising IB dissertations. Invitations for campus visits will be issued during Spring 2020.

Temple University has evolved into an international powerhouse in higher education and a top-tier research institution with roughly 40,000 undergraduate, graduate and professional students. As the largest university in one of the nation’s most iconic cities, Temple educates diverse future leaders from across Philadelphia, the country and the world who share a common drive to learn, prepare for their careers and make a real impact. For additional information about Temple University please visit our website at www.temple.edu.

Established in 1918, the Fox School of Business, with more than 8,500 students and more than 220 full-time faculty members, is accredited by AACSB International and the largest, most comprehensive business school in the greater Philadelphia region offering Bachelors, MBA, Specialized Masters, Executive MBA, Executive DBA, and Ph.D. with programs at campuses in the Philadelphia region and worldwide.

The faculty position will be based in the Strategic Management [SGM] Department, which is home to IB, Strategy, Innovation/Entrepreneurship, and Consulting and 28 full-time faculty and 13 PhD students. Over the last decade and more, SGM Department has been building a research reputation at the intersection of IB and technology/innovation management. Candidates with proven research capabilities at this intersection are likely to find the department a very fecund unit within which to both develop and enhance their own research profile, as well as contribute to interdepartmental research collaboration.

APPLICATION TIMING AND PROCEDURE: Screening will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Candidates should send a cover letter addressed to Professor Arvind Parkhe, a full curriculum vitae, a brief statement of research interests, evidence of excellence in research, results of teaching performance (if applicable), and the names and contact information of three references. All applications will be held in strict confidence.

Submit materials electronically to strategy@temple.edu. Applicants must arrange for three letters of recommendation to be emailed directly from recommenders to the above email address, with “Reference for [Candidate’s Name]” in the subject line.

Temple University is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer committed to student, faculty and staff diversity, equity, and inclusion. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply. Additional information is available from the university, college and department websites at http://www.fox.temple.edu.
Temple University’s Annual Security and Fire Safety Report contains statistics, policies, and procedures related to campus safety and can be found at: https://safety.temple.edu/reports-logs/annual-security-report. You may request a copy of the report by calling Temple University’s Campus Safety Services at 215-204-7900.